Insight Lens for Gen AI Accelerator

Leverage the power of generative AI in your business quickly, privately and at scale with Azure OpenAI and Insight Lens.

Generative AI is rapidly changing the way we do business and helping organizations do more with less. Using applications like ChatGPT for corporate use cases raises serious concerns around privacy and security, which can slow adoption and delay valuable innovation. With so many prospective cost savings and process efficiencies tied to generative AI adoption, organizations need to find a way to adopt generative AI quickly while ensuring private business data is secured.

Azure® OpenAI® from Microsoft provides businesses with a private high-performance instance in your Azure tenant to help you realize the efficiencies and innovation potential of generative AI — while maintaining security, compliance and governance — across a multitude of operational functions.
